LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

Roses are in bloom.

Next Wednesday will be Decoration Day.

For family liquors go to Sam E. Wertheimer.

Mr. Eddy of Silver Park, was in town Monday.

Joe Courmerth and Frank Walker were in town Tuesday.

James Pierson came in Tuesday evening from his ranch in Pahrangat Valley.

Country produce of all kinds is very low and but few peddlers seek a market here.

The nights are cold enough for the middle of winter and heavy bed covering is required.

The Meadow Valley roofing that was blown off during last week's storm, has been repaired.

Joe Cook has closed down his mine for present on account of bad air and the low price of silver.

Austin's Monday stage was crowded with passengers and freight for Ferguson district. Travel on that route is on the improve.

Operations at Bullionville will be resumed in about a week, the roaster is about completed and run will be made upon tailings.

County Assessor Freudenthal departed Wednesday morning on his six weeks assessing trip in the southern part of the county.

Stock in and around Lake Valley are showing a marked improvement after the severe winter through which they have passed.

The P. C. Co. have commenced suit against Wm. Culverwell to recover a lot of personal property. The case will be tried the coming term of Court.

The courthouse is undergoing a thorough cleaning and everything put in ship shape preparatory to the arrival of the Judge who holds Court next Monday.

Foster predicts that to-morrow Friday, the stormy weather we have had for the past week, will commence to moderate and Saturday will be considerably warm.

If the hair is falling out or turning gray, requiring a stimulant with nourishment and coloring food, Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer is just the specific.

JOB PRINTING in all its branches, equal in style to any, done at this office.

There is a good demand for water by those who have gardens. The dry and arid weather of late has parched up the soil requiring plenty of moisture to produce vegetation.

A. S. Thompson has just received a carload of Salt Lake Beer, also assorted Soda and Saraparrilla, which he is offering at reasonable figures and delivered free to any part of town.

Edward Clark returned to town by Saturday night's Milford stage. He has been residing in Salt Lake for the past sixteen months where he has been taking a course of study in a business college.

Judge Reeves and Mr. Harry Jackson came in from Ely Friday and left for Ferguson district the following day. They returned Tuesday and will attend court on the 28th of the present month.

Grand Master Reed of the I. O. O. F. arrived Tuesday on a tour of inspection and after conclusion of business in the lodge, the members partook of a fine collation. About twenty-five members were present.

Another good brick the result of a few days run of the Condon mill by the Nesbitt Brothers, is now waiting transportation, the supposed value of which will be in the neighborhood of $10,000. They will make a final clean-up in a few days.

Ayer's Pills are invaluable for the cure of Headache, Constipation, Stomach and Liver troubles, and all derangements of the digestive and assimilative organs. These pills are sugar coated, safe and pleasant to take, always reliable, and retain their virtues in any climate.

J. Eisenmann wishes to call the attention of those desiring to build, to the fact that he has just received a carload of glazed window sash, all sizes; also panel, sash and screen doors, together with white lead, paints, oils and nails, which will be sold cheaper than ever, but only for cash.

News was received here Tuesday evening of the death of a man named Erickson, an employee of the Hiko mill and a brother-in-law of John Ferguson. While in the discharge of his duty he was caught in the belt and was killed instantly. He remains were laid to rest in the Hiko cemetery.

Intelligence came here Sunday of the death of Judd Stoddard who was well known hereabouts. Whilst going down the Keystone shaft at Vanderbilt, the powder which he was carrying, by some means exploded and he was blown to pieces. Some time ago he was connected with the Rose Valley ranch. He is related to the Stoddards at Milford.

A night shift has been put on at the Yuba. Sunday evenings stage did not arrive here until Monday morning.

John Lynch of Desert Springs, was seen on the streets Tuesday.

Base ball is at a discount, the high winds of late putting a complete stop to ball tossing.

J. R. De Lamar is now at Denver, Col., and may visit Ferguson district again within a month.

Three hundred tickets were sold at Reno Sunday to residents bound for the Mid-winter Fair.

Considerable quietness surrounds the town and all those who can get away are making for Ferguson district.

The wire, brackets, etc., for the telephone line to Ferguson, have arrived. C. Lytle and his men are busy setting poles and the work of stringing wire will begin next week.

Many of our delinquent subscribers are coming forward and settling up their accounts with us, but there are a number of delinquents that we shall be glad to hear from.

The latest advice from Judge Talbot were to the effect that he was not improving as fast as might be, and that he was going to try the warmer climate of Southern California.

The time for Jim Rule to find the hidden bonanza on the 1,100 foot level of the Consolidated Virginia has been extended to June 15th. Rule is confident that he will develop an ore body.

The closing out sale of the Godbe Mercantile Co's store still continues. The stock of staple groceries is kept full and complete and they go at regular rates with a rebate on other goods thrown in. Read their ad. on this matter on this page.

The man who took his pail and sat down in the middle of the field on a rock and waited for a cow to back up to be milked, was first cousin to the fellow who would not advertise, but expected the public to hunt up his store and hunt up his wares.

Printer's ink is now being used to save young orchards from the ravages of the cut worm. An exchange remarks that pests of all kinds have a natural aversion for printer's ink.

The vast facilities of the J. C. Ayer Co., of Lowell, Mass., enable them to place The Superior Blood-purifier-Ayer's Sarsaparilla—within the reach of the poorest invalid. Don't be induced to take a cheap substitute. Always remember that the best is the cheapest.

On Tuesday last Dr. Campbell performed an operation on Mrs. George Carlow, extracting a portion of a needle an inch long much corroded, from the lower portion of the shoulder. It had been embedded for fifteen years and had caused her much suffering.

The youngsters around town are putting in their leisure time fixing up a building within which they will air their vocal and dramatic talent, as this is gotten up without any tuition we may look for something at least original if not entertaining. Price of admission has not yet been decided upon.

Alfred Syphus, son of Luke Syphus of Panaca, died at St. Thomas, a week ago yesterday from injuries received about three weeks previously in efforts to subdue a wild cow. The animal ran away, dragging him some distance and it was not until some time afterwards that it was seen internal injuries of a serious character, had resulted. The body was buried at St. Thomas last Thursday.

De Lamar's Nevada Gold Mining Company.

The certificate of incorporation of the above named company was received at the County Recorder's office for record, on Tuesday. The Monitor Jim Crow group of mines at Ferguson district, recently purchased by J. R. De Lamar of New York, constitutes the property of the new corporation which is effected under the laws of New Jersey. The principal office of the company is in Jersey City, N. J. W. N. Cromwell is President and H. B. Parsons Secretary and Treasurer, both of New York City.

The Articles of Incorporation are dated May 10th, and took effect on May 14th. Only 2500 shares are provided for, at a par value of $100 each which indicates that the organization intends to develop the properties on their merits and not for stock purposes of any kind.

From Vanderbilt.

James Clark of Desert Springs, came in Saturday from Vanderbilt where he has been residing for the past three months. He says that mining and milling are progressing favorably in that section and there are not many idle men in camp. The great difficulty is the scarcity of water which is a detriment to the steady run of the mills. Green Campbell is sinking on the Boomerang mine and as soon as water level is reached, calculates to obtain sufficient water for all milling purposes. There is considerable prospecting going on in the neighboring hills for water but so far the results are not favorable for any great supply. There are three men at work grading on this end of the railroad but this is only a temporary force and will be increased.

Many men are churning on small streaks of gold bearing quartz which will be run principally at the Bronze mill. While there he met some Piochers, among them Dick Rich who is carpentering at the Crescent mill, Hank Goodrich is erecting an assay office in connection with the Crescent mill and Joe Goodrich is helping to put up some machinery at the same place. Places of amusements are springing up and the camp generally presents an air of activity.

Is There Danger of Poisoning From Eating Sprayed Fruit?

(Newspaper Bulletin No. 14.)
This is a question which has been asked many times and undoubtedly the fear of possible harm has kept many from using this valuable method of combatting insect foes. To allay any such fears, and thus perhaps prevent the dissemination of insecticides in many cases where they are really needed, this newspaper bulletin is published. The only sprays used as insecticides which are at all dangerous to use are the arsenic compounds, and the copper compounds, though these latter are much less poisonous than the former. Both Paris green and London purple have been used extensively for many years in this county as insecticides and a case of fatal poisoning has yet to be recorded. The great danger lies in having the poison about the ranch in bulk. The supposed danger has developed a great deal of opposition to the use of Paris green, and it has been but a year or so since the sale of American apples in English markets received a set back from this supposed danger of arsenical poisoning from their consumption.

It was shown in 1873 by McMurtrie, of U. S. Department of Agriculture, that the most rigorous chemical analysis detects no arsenic in the composition of plants taken from a soil so saturated with Paris green that the plants wilted from its influence, thus it can be safely assumed that plants and vegetables can convey the poison to the consumer only through the very small quantity of arsenic which may be left from spraying on the edible part of the plant. It would seem at first thought that the use of Paris green on a plant like the cabbage would be very unsafe, but the absence of danger has been shown by Professor Gillette, of the Colorado station as follows:

"Where the green is dusted from a bag in the proportion of one ounce to one hundred ounces of flour, and just enough applied to each head to make a slight show of dust on the leaves, say for twenty-eight heads one ounce of the mixture, the worms will all be killed in two or three days, while the average amount of poison on each head will be about one-seventh of a grain. Fully half of the powder will fall on the outside leaves and on the ground, and thus a person would have to eat about twenty-eight heads of cabbage to consume a poisonous dose of arsenic, even if the balance of the poison remained after cooking."

In the case of spraying apple orchards there is scarcely a possibility of injury to the consumer, for where the poison is used in the proportion of one pound to two hundred gallons of water the arsenic will be so distributed that it will be impossible for a sufficient quantity to collect upon any given apple to have the slightest injurious effect upon the consumer. In fact an individual would have to eat several barrels of apples at a single meal to absorb a fatal dose. An experiment showing the minute quantity of arsenic used to one tree in ordinary spraying was made by Professor A. J. Cook of Michigan. He placed thick paper under a tree and thoroughly sprayed the tree on a windy day so that the dripping was excessive. After dripping ceased, the paper (covering seventy-two square feet) was analyzed and four-tenths grains of arsenic found.

In regard to the copper solutions it may be said that the amount of copper found on grapes intelligently sprayed is rarely more than five milligrams (0.005) per kilogram (about two pounds) the average is 2 1/2 to 3 milligrams per kilogram. In other words 1,000,000 pounds of grapes sprayed in the usual way with Bordeaux mixture would contain 2 1/2 to 3 pounds of copper. According to Gauthier, Professor of chemistry of the Faculty of Medicine, Paris, an adult can absorb daily, for a period of several weeks without evil effects from two tenths to five-tenths grams (1 gram = 15.438 grains) of copper sulphate (blue vitriol). On this basis an adult may eat from 300 to 500 pounds of sprayed grapes per day without fear of evil effects from the copper.

Sheriff Kinney of Ormsby county arrived on yesterday's local with the Italian who attempted to burn the Catholic Church at Carson City a few days ago. He was committed to the asylum.—Reno Journal.

Ludgate Hill (London)—Ahl! but this is such a flat, ugly country. England has such beautiful scenery of valley hill and dale. Mr. Packingham (Chicago)—Yes; if she was a little nearer we'd float her over to Chicago and make a park of her.—Puck.

Now Colonel Breckinridge's supporters urge in his behalf that he must be re-elected "to rebuke the clergy for interfering in politics." But the clergy have not interfered in politics further than to reassert the obligations of common morality. If the "Kentucky Bourbons" propose to punish them for that, the country wants to know it.—Boston Journal.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of THE RECORD.

WASHINGTON, May 15, 1894.

Never within the memory of the oldest habitue of the Capitol has the majority of the Senate allowed itself to be nagged by the minority as the Republicans have nagged the Democrats since those four hundred amendments to the tariff bill were presented to the Senate. Although Senator Brice claims that forty-three Democrats are pledged to support the tariff bill after those amendments are adopted not a single Democrat has had the courage to defend the amendments. The nearest any one of them came to it was when Senator Harris said: "The Democratic party believes in a tariff for revenue with such incidental protection as revenue duties afford," but he had not a word to say when Senator Aldrich asked him what then became of the declaration of the last Democratic National platform, that protection was a fraud and was unconstitutional. The Democratic party are very much at sea, and none of them make any serious attempt to hide it, while Mr. Cleveland has gone fishing to hide his disgust.

Coxey's nondescripts were compelled by the health authorities to leave the pest hole in which they had been encamped, and being unable to secure any other place in Washington they are now camped in Maryland, five miles from town. The Marylanders do not relish their presence even a little bit and threats are being openly made compelling them to move on. Sufficient rations to feed the men is getting to be a serious problem with Coxey; he has got about all from Washington that he will get, and the Maryland people say they don't intend to encourage their stay by helping to feed them. The argument for a new trial for Coxey, Brown and Jones, convicted of violating the law for the protection of the Capitol building and grounds, will be heard to-morrow. It is regarded as certain that a new trial will be refused them.

Senator Hill of New York, doesn't mince words in expressing his opinion of tariff bill number four. He said: "Let the odium of its passage or praise for its defeat rest upon the shoulders of Senator Gorman, for aught I care. One thing is certain, the tariff bill now before the Senate should never become a law. There is no justice in it, and it is simply subterfuge and a makeshift."

Hon. John Patton, Jr., the new Senator from Michigan, has made a very favorable impression upon his colleagues and the public. Although he had had no actual legislative experience previous to his appointment as the successor of the late Senator Stockbridge his wide general knowledge and his grasp upon political affairs have made him feel at home in the Senate, where he will certainly make himself heard later on.

It may not be entirely just to charge Representative McGann, chairman of the House Committee on Labor, who offered the resolution, and the majority of the committee who voted to favorably report the resolution providing for the appointment of joint Congressional committee to investigate the industrial depression, with demagoguism; but if that resolution, following as it did the hearing granted Coxey by the Labor committee, does not bear the genuine marks of demagoguism it has some excellent imitations of them. It directs the appointment of a committee of seven—three Senators and four Representatives—to investigate and report to Congress within thirty days the cause of the industrial depression responsible for so much distress throughout the country and what legislation will preserve industrial and financial conditions which will offer speedy, permanent and lucrative employment to the citizens of the United States." Think of the enormity of the task imposed and of the time given—thirty days—within which it must be done, and you will see the point.

The House Judiciary Committee has had another attack of states right fever, a disease often scotched, but never entirely killed, and the result was the ordering of a favorable report on a bill introduced by Representative De Armond, of Mo., providing that no judge of a United States Court shall punish any citizen or officer for being in contempt for refusing to levy a tax or collect a tax for the payment of any bond issued by the municipality, county or state, where the levying of such tax or collection is contrary to the laws of the state. This bill, if it becomes a law, will make the laws of a state paramount to those of the United States and the decision of state courts paramount to those of the United States, which would be in accordance with the doctrine which four years of the bloodiest war in history should have forever ended, but which somehow it did not.

A Democratic school teacher asked one of his pupils, whose father is a Republican, "how many mills make a cent?" The boy replied, "None of them do. They're all shut down on account of the Wilson bill."—Santa Courier.
